someone shaking a can along the road, don't feel you have to give a lot, the change in your pocket makes a difference too."

Smolensky spoke highly of the local men and women who devote their time as volunteers during the drive.

"A lot of people come and devote a half-hour to two hours answering the phones. Some of them I have to send home, even though they want to stay the entire time.

"Local businesses and individuals donate food and drinks for the volunteers."

"We will be making calls to homes asking for donations. If they don't come to us, we will go to them, but we promise not to call anyone between 11:30 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. Everyone deserves their sleep."

Smolensky said some of the least recognized of his workers are those who stand out in the weather along the roads shaking cans. Among them are firefighters, boy scouts and postal carriers.

"It's not easy asking people for money," he added.

"The hardest part of all though, is when these people give up their weekend holiday to sit by a phone and it doesn't ring, or stand by a highway in the heat and cars speed past.

"Without them, and many others who work all year long, none of this would work."

"It is a great feeling when everyone in the community does get involved. The people here have been supportive and generous."

"I know this has been a tough year, and we appreciate every little bit."

MDA goodwill ambassador

MDA regional goodwill ambassador Anthony "Tony" Ladner helps fill the jug at MDA drive headquarters, Charlie Henderson Ford on Hwy. 90 in Waveland. Hancock coordinator Louie Smolensky assists with volunteer Gloria Duhon. Duhon and others have sold raffle chances at Kmart on a barbecue pit since July. The drawing will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at Kmart, and profits will be presented to Smolensky Sunday evening at Henderson's. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This evening at 6 marks the beginning of the annual Waveland Civic Association Muscular Dystrophy telephone solicitation along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Louie Smolensky, chairman, has been busy making preparations for the past several months and is hoping to receive a lot of help for the annual fund-raiser.

There are still several time slots open for telephone solicitors and other types of volunteers.

To make a pledge call 467-9005 or 864-3837 from 6 p.m. today through 6 p.m. Monday (Labor Day).

This year the telethon can be viewed on Fox 38, WNOL TV.

Last year Louie and his volunteers collected $23,000 through all the various events and telephone solicitation. He is hoping this year to go over $25,000, and the only way he can do this is for you to make a pledge or donation.

The Bay and Waveland Fire Departments will both be out taking collections by 'shaking cans' this weekend to help Louie reach his goal.

Once again, Charlie Henderson has donated his building and telephone system for the local drive.

Louie has a water pitcher at Charlie's (it is a large one), and he is trying to fill it up with pennies, nickles, dimes, quarters, and a dollar bill looks good in it, too.

The water jug is already receiving donations, but still has a lot of room.

During the telethon, if you would like, Louie invites you to come by in person to make your pledge, and he may even have coffee, a soft drink or sandwich for you.

Just give Louie a call at 467-9005 or 864-3837, because he will be waiting for the phone to ring.

The annual fireworks display sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association will be at 8 tonight.

The spectacular is in cooperation with the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Handling the fireworks will be Waveland fire chief David Garcia and his firefighters.

The location of the fireworks display is the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier, and this gives miles of good viewing from along Beach Boulevard.

I hope to see you at the fireworks display.

I received a copy of a note a few days ago Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil had sent to all department members, regular and reserve personnel.

McNeil was thanking all members of his department for their great response to the emergency Hurricane Andrew brought about.

The chief felt his department was prepared if Andrew would have struck this area.

He also mentioned how proud he is of the department as a whole, and he is proud to be part of such an organization.

Have you noticed how trees along Beach Boulevard are showing the scars from Hurricane Andrew?

The salt water spray has turned the leaves brown and may have killed some of the trees if enough salt has gotten into the soil.

It seems every type of tree and shrub has suffered from the spray, even the old stately evergreen oaks. Only time will tell the complete outcome.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Rural Cablevision leaves much to be desired

Dear Editor,

I am writing to complain about the poor services provided by Rural Cablevision, out of Baton Rouge, La., to parts of Hancock County. Hardly a week goes by without some channels not being available to view because of some "malfunctions" in the system.

Lately, the whole system goes down for days at a time. In fact, I am sitting here writing this letter without cable service since Friday a week ago. I have been without cable 12 of the 27 days so far this month. Naturally, when I received my bill today it was for the whole month.

I have called the cable company repeatedly to no avail. A clerk always takes my name and phone number and promises that the service technician will immediately return my call. Of course, he never does.

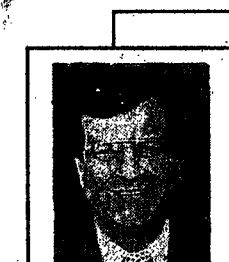

When Rural Cablevision was first installed I grudgingly paid the fees for the scant number of channel listings they provided, which, by the way, is fewer than half the channels provided by other companies to other parts of Hancock County, because I presumed that services would be upgraded and improved with time.

However, a year passed and fees increased about 15 percent. Do you think services improved or channels were added? Of course not! I called the company and asked them if they had any intentions of upgrading services since they were charging more money. Their response was, "What you see it what you get. We have no plans to add anything anytime in the future."

If Rural Cablevision is unwilling to maintain and upgrade their system, I believe their operating permit should be revoked and the system in place should be placed up for bid to other competing systems which would be willing to provide adequate and timely services.

Sincerely,
Elaine Oneto
Bay St. Louis

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Checking off the debt

President Bush has offered America a bold and innovative proposal to deal with the national debt.

On its face, the idea has a lot of appeal. And, quite frankly, when you look at the proposal under a microscope, it gets even better.

Not only would it begin paying off the national debt, it would also balance the budget in as few as four years if every taxpayer opted for the full 10 percent checkoff. (Source: Congressional Budget Office study.)

If the President's proposal becomes law, the American public will finally have the power to do what Congress has been unable, or unwilling, to do—begin to pay off the national debt.

The President's proposal would:

—Allow individual taxpayers the right to designate up to 10 percent of their personal tax liability specifically for debt reduction and to require Congress to reduce spending by an equal amount;

—Establish a public debt reduction trust fund with these designated funds;

—Enforce spending cuts through proportionate sequestration of all federal spending (with the exception of social security, interest payments on the debt and the deposit insurance fund);

—Prohibit Congress from using new taxes to avoid the automatic spending cuts;

—Become effective in the tax year following enactment of the legislation; and,

—Prohibit the automatic spending increases encouraged under current budget law.

Previous efforts to deal with the budget deficit and the national debt have come up far short of success. While the latest—the 1990 Budget agreement—does force spending caps on Congress, the caps still allow spending increases that are far greater than the rate of inflation. That's too much in my opinion.

The President's new proposal offers what could be our best opportunity yet to bring the national debt under control and to stop increasing it. It will force tough decisions in spending—the kind of tough decisions that should have already been made. It's time to bite the bullet and deal with this growing problem.

Congress just doesn't have the discipline necessary to wrestle with the national debt, much less to control spending and stop the annual budget deficits that keep adding to a debt that's already more than four trillion dollars.

This is a proposal whose time has definitely come. It offers the American taxpayer a greater say in federal spending and a means to deal with one of our most pressing economic problems.

Storm trackers are vital despite administration's view

When Hurricane Andrew began its trek into the Gulf of Mexico, after having pounded South Florida, South Mississippians went into the "hurricane mode" of getting ready. As all of us know, hurricanes are unpredictable, vicious and unforgiving to those who are unprepared.

When it appeared we would get the brunt of the storm, I placed all staff members in my three district offices on alert. Had we been hit, South Mississippi's Congressional offices would have been prepared to assist county and city officials along with the general public with their post-hurricane needs.

Though we never wish the misfortune of a hurricane on anyone else, we can all be thankful that in comparison to Florida and Louisiana, we were merely inconvenienced by power outages, torrential rain and high winds. However, had Andrew turned its tidal surge and 150+ mph winds on South Mississippi, we would have been ready.

We would have been prepared for many reasons. First, a majority of us have experienced first-hand the destruction associated with hurricanes and spin-off tornadoes. Second, our Civil Defense, city, county, and law enforcement officials have extensive hurricane preparedness training.

And finally, along with the entire Gulf Coast region and Eastern Shore, we are blessed with the expertise of weather professionals who decipher the atmospheric conditions relayed to them by the Geostationary Operational Environmental Satellite (GOES) and South Mississippi's very own "Storm Trackers" stationed at Keesler Air Force Base.

Without every one of these safeguards—first-hand knowledge, highly-trained officials and the GOES satellite and Storm Trackers, our response time would be limited and the science of pin-pointing the hurricane's course would be more complicated than it already is.

With all of this in mind, it may come to you as a surprise that on June 29, 1990, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney issued an order to cease operating the hurricane reconnaissance squadron under the Defense Department and transferring control of the program over to the Commerce Department. The change would have weakened the effectiveness of this worthwhile program.

As many of us were reminded during Andrew, experts at the National Hurricane Center relied heavily on the information obtained from the reconnaissance flights flown in the hurricane's eye. On several occasions, these professional hurricane watchers stated that the Storm Trackers played an invaluable role in pin-pointing Andrew's projected course.

I realize that marking the spot where a hurricane will make landfall is not an exact science. However, I believe we should take every means to develop a tracking system that is as precise as technologically possible. I believe we currently have that system.

Immediately after having learned that the Administration was attempting to cut these vital life-saving flights, 31 Gulf Coast state lawmakers and myself contacted Secretary Cheney to voice our opposition to transferring control of these planes to the Commerce Department.

On July 23, 1990, less than one month after the order to "cease operation," Secretary Cheney announced that the WC-130 weather reconnaissance planes would remain under the Department of Defense at existing force levels. The Air Force, however, now operates the squadron as a Reserve air wing rather than an active unit. This change has had no effect on the number of planes, number of missions flown or the number of crew.

Last month, I announced that funding for the Storm Trackers remains intact, with the squadron slated to receive $4.1 million next year. I am pleased the measure includes strongly worded language which sends the Secretary of Defense a "hands-off" message.

After this most recent natural disaster, hopefully, the Administration now realizes the importance of our hurricane reconnaissance squadron. The squadron obviously saved many lives as Andrew wreaked havoc along the Southeastern United States. I assure you, I am going to make sure the Storm Trackers save many more.

Beloved citizen remembered here

This memorial sits near Bay St. Louis City Hall as a reminder to generations of city residents of the existence of one man who made a difference in his community.

Alvin Joseph Weinberg was the pharmacist at Fahey Drug Store on Railroad Avenue until his death in 1954. The Fahey family sponsored Weinberg's education, according to Princess Fahey, during the days when families could ill-afford the services of a doctor, and often turned to their local pharmacist for advice and medical treatment.

Charles Thomas, current owner and pharmacist of Fahey's, recalls the tremendous respect and trust afforded to Weinberg's memory by former customers.

"I felt like there was a great man who came before me, and wondered how was I to fill his shoes," Thomas stated. It is said that local physicians willingly cooperated with Weinberg, saving the expense of a doctor's visit for many residents.

Upon Weinberg's death, collections were made to erect a memorial, setting into stone a lasting tribute to a man so loved by the people he touched.

Delchamps renews "Cash Back for Schools" program

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Thanks to Delchamps' fund-raising program last year, St. Clare School in Waveland is able to purchase more than $2,300 worth of science laboratory equipment.

Principal Sister Jane Bircher credits the diligent efforts of students and parishioners, who collected cash register receipts "and even put them in the collection plate on Sunday." The supermarket chain offers 1% of the receipts' total in cash to participating schools.

"Our best collectors were really the elderly in the parish," she said, who were even on the lookout for stray green cash register receipts left in shopping carts.

"The children have already started turning them in this year."

Other schools in the area, and the amounts they received, include:

Bay Catholic Elementary, $882; Bay High School, $1,022; Bay Middle School, $1,200; Coast Episcopal, $474; Diamondhead Academy, $252; Dominion Christian Academy, $378;

Hancock High School, $598; Hancock North Central Elementary, $1,936; North Bay Elementary, $400; Pass Christian Elementary, $109; Pass High School, $294; St. Paul, $399; and Waveland Elementary, $1,076.

According to Delchamps, only green receipts dated from August 30, 1992 to January 2, 1993 will be eligible for redemption. Schools are asked to turn in receipts in increments of $50,000 to the Waveland store manager to receive $500. At the end of the program, any remaining receipts will be redeemed for cash.

The current fund-raising program is open to all public and private schools throughout Delchamps' four-state operating area.

Lakeshore Boosters deadline is Thursday

From Echo Staff Reports

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD NASA

Isadore O. Hyde Sr., 55, and Celestine D. Hyde, 53, of Gautier, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy and one count of tax evasion in U.S. District Court in Biloxi.

According to the indictment, the Hydys were originally charged with one count of conspiracy, two counts of tax evasion, two counts of failure to file corporate tax returns and one count of obstruction of justice.

Based on a Memorandum of Understanding, the Hydys agreed to plead guilty to Counts 1 and 3 of the indictment for a reduced sentence. In exchange for the concessions made by the government, the Hydys have waived the right to appeal the actual sentence imposed and have waived the right to contest the sentence in any post-conviction proceeding.

The Hydys pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the Defense Contract Audit Agency by submitting false claims for costs in connection with a NASA contract to provide security services at the Stennis Space Center. The false claims submitted by the Hydys included over $59,000 in personal expenditures.

Both individuals face a maximum sentence of 15 years in prison followed by three years supervised release, a $500,000 fine and a special assessment of $100. Under the tax law, persons convicted of criminal tax offenses, in addition to whatever criminal sentence is imposed, are required to pay the tax determined to be due along with all interest and civil penalties that may be assessed. Both Isadore and Celestine Hyde remain free on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

U.S. District Judge Walter J. Gex III set sentencing for Nov. 9, 1992 at 1 p.m.

The case was developed by special agents of the IRS Criminal Investigation Division. Assistant U.S. Attorney Ruth Morgan handled the case for U.S. Attorney George Phillips' office.

Diverse collection

The items shown are part of the goods recovered from two house burglaries that occurred in late August. Bryan Doral Page, 21, of #18 Easterbrook Street Apartments, was arrested September 1 around 12:57 a.m. and charged with two counts of burglary of a dwelling. At the time of the report, he was in the Hancock County jail under a $10,000 bond. Detective Tom Burleson, who gave the report and was one of the arresting officers, said more arrests are expected. Kurt Raymond, the other arresting officer, is in charge of the investigation. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

The Lemon Patrol

In the course of writing this column, I've discovered something distressing; namely, that some people in this world suffer from an insidious disease called humorous interruptus.

This malady impairs the victim's ability to understand the punchline of any joke that is more than a sentence long, or to grasp the humorous intent of a cartoon.

For people so afflicted, I propose we institute a special force: the Lemon Patrol. This carefully selected, highly trained team will uphold the cause of humor throughout the city by seeking out those who suffer from humorous interruptus and attempting to cure them.

Armed with rubber chickens, Groucho Marx glasses and the manual for humor enforcement, Crime and Punishment, written by Sea Coast Echo pressman Tony Monti, these determined troopers will do their best to rehabilitate those who have lost their capacity for appreciating the amusing.

Those who refuse to cooperate will be charged with capital seriousness and tried by a jury of their peers. If convicted, they will be sentenced to the Laugh Factory in California, the Comedy Zone in Biloxi, or some other comedy camp, so they can learn the meaning and purpose of humor.

If this column has offended you, watch out. The Lemon Patrol might show up on your doorstep sometime soon.

Gulf Coast Symphony opens 30th season

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra opens its 30th season at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre on Saturday, Sept. 19 at 8 p.m. with the return of pianist Mykola Suk and conductor Dr. Andrew H. Harper.

Born in Kiev into a family of musicians, pianist Mykola Suk studied at the Kiev Special Music School and at the Moscow Conservatory with Lev Vlasenko.

In 1971 he gained international recognition as the winner of the First Prize and Gold Medal at the International Liszt-Bartok Competition in Budapest.

Suk has appeared with orchestras here and abroad (most recently in the Chicago premiere of Schnittke's Concerto for Piano and Strings with Concertante di Chicago), in solo recitals throughout the United States, in Western Europe and in the Near East, and in a Duo with Oleh Krysa, violin, in program.

rams from the Beethoven Cycle of sonatas for piano and violin at Alice Tully Hall and on other U.S. stages.

He has been awarded the title of Outstanding Artist of the Ukraine for having done great service in the field of the performing arts. Formerly on the faculty of the Moscow Conservatory, he now lives in New York City where he is artist-in-residence at the Ukrainian Institute of America.

For the opening concert of the season Dr. Harper has selected Wagner's Christopher Columbus Overture as this marks the 500th anniversary of the arrival of Columbus here in what is now our United States.

Other selections are Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man, Gottschalk's A Night in the Tropics. Suk will perform Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue with the orchestra. The concert concludes with Copland's Selections from Rodeo and Ives' Finale from Symphony No. 2.

There will be an open rehearsal at the Saenger on Saturday, Sept. 19 at 3 p.m. Tickets for the open rehearsal and concert will be available at the door. Advance tickets for the concert are available at the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council, 2501 14th Street, Gulfport, phone 864-4000 or may be obtained by writing the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra, Inc., P.O. Box 7294, Gulfport, MS 39506. Open rehearsal is $5 and the concert at 8 p.m. is $15. Single ticket price for 12 years of age and under is $8.

Information regarding season tickets may be obtained by calling the Arts Council at 864-4000 or by writing the symphony at the above address.

Wilkerson attends ALA convention

Low Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis was one of 2,400 delegates, alternates and distinguished guests attending the 72nd annual American Legion Auxiliary National Convention August 24-27 at the Chicago Marriott Downtown in Illinois.

Wilkerson, state ALA president and department president of the Clement R. Bontemps Post #139 American Legion Auxiliary in Bay St. Louis, participated in a variety of activities throughout the week.

Events included a special memorial service and parade through downtown Chicago, and an action-packed festival on Navy Pier sponsored by the American Legion, featuring the sights and sounds of the 1940s. Vocalist Rosemary Clooney entertained the delegates as they celebrated the 50th anniversary of World War II.

The opening session August 24 featured greetings from the governor of Illinois, the mayor of Chicago, American Legion National Commander Dominic D. DiFrancesco, the Auxiliary's National Honorary Junior President Sonya Stapp, and recently elected 1992 Girls Keynote speaker Joy E. Radice. Keynote speaker Dr. Michael S. Kneale, president of Kneale Enterprises, addressed delegates on "Expanding Power and Vision."

On August 25, a special awards luncheon honored Department Unit Members of the Year and the Auxiliary's 1992 Woman of the Year, NASA astronaut Kathryn C. Thornton. After the luncheon, the four national winners of the Auxiliary's Heart of America Media Award Competition made a short presentation and received their awards.

On August 26, the Auxiliary's traditional States Dinner took place in the hotel's Grand Ballroom and featured singer/actress Shirley Jones, who was also the recipient of the Auxiliary's 1992 Humanitarian Award.

Other highlights of the convention included several promotional programs that were successfully launched this year, including the Auxiliary-sponsored Habitat house and the educational video for teens, "Young People and Relationships."

On August 27, the 1992-93 national officers were installed. The million-member American Legion Auxiliary was founded in 1919 to support the work of the American Legion and serve the nation's veterans. The organization, with national headquarters in Indianapolis, sponsors a variety of programs which focus on veterans' issues, the welfare and education of children and youth, and community service.

Last year, Auxiliary volunteers contributed $19.2 million and seven million hours of service to these programs.

The ice cream and cake party, sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 139, was Tuesday, Sept. 2, for the veterans in the VA Gulfport Hospital.

Shirley Clemons, VAVS chairman, and Evelyn Burns brought the goodies. There were 70 veterans who participated on this occasion.

A regular monthly sing-a-long was sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 and co-hosted by Roslyn Weathers and Oris Planchard, for the residents of the Hotel Reed Nursing Center.

Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano while Roslyn Weathers led the singing of the hymns, gospel, patriotic and 'oldies but goodies.'

Nicole Korn had the residents assembled in the dining room, and they were happy to begin another sing-a-long.

Refreshments were served by the staff.

CONSUMER UPDATE

Check your credit files

By Janet K. Lukens

Area consumer money management specialist

Complaints about credit bureaus represent the single largest category of consumer grievances with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

The "big three" nationwide credit bureaus are TRW, Equifax and Trans Union. They have all been under fire from Congress, the FTC and individual states for inaccurate reports and making it difficult for consumers to correct credit reports.

Information on credit reports stays on file for seven years with the exception of Chapter 7 bankruptcies which remain for 10 years.

If inaccurate negative information is found by the consumer on a report issued by one credit bureau, it is also possible that another credit bureau may carry the same inaccurate information. For this reason, a consumer who has located inaccuracies in one credit report, should check copies of credit reports from each of the three major credit bureaus.

Motivated by lawsuits in 19 states for erroneous credit reports and an error that caused the entire town of Norwich, Vt. to be reported as delinquent on local taxes, TRW has taken dramatic steps toward helping consumers resolve problems with credit reports. They have set up toll-free numbers for consumers with a credit-report problem.

They have made consumer reports easier to read and have created new rules for handling consumer complaints. In addition, TRW now issues one free copy of the credit report to a consumer each calendar year.

To take advantage of the free report, consumers must make requests in writing on plain paper or personal stationery. To protect consumer privacy, the request should include a document that links the name of the consumer requesting the report with the address to which the report should be mailed, for example, a copy of a driver's license or billing statement.

They will not accept telephone requests or requests from such third parties as credit repair clinics.

Consumers must include the following information when writing for their complimentary report:

- full name, including middle initial and generation, if applicable, (e.g., Jr., Sr., etc.);
- current address, including zip code;
- previous addresses, including zip code, if the consumer has moved in the last five years;
- Social Security number;
- year of birth;
- spouse's first name, if married; and —a photocopy of a billing statement, utility bill, drivers license or other document that links the name of the consumer requesting the report with the address to which the report should be mailed. This verification is necessary to protect the security of consumers' personal information.

Send the request to: TRW Consumer Assistance, P.O. Box 2350, Chatsworth, CA 91313-2350.

Equifax has set up a center with a toll-free number, 800-685-1111 to answer questions. They charge $8 for a "curiosity check" by the consumer and Trans Union charges $20 for a report and $40 if it is a joint report in two names.

These two addresses are as follows:

Trans Union National Service Division, P.O. Box 7000, North Olmsted, OH 44070 and Equifax Credit Service, P.O. Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374.

Rocks fall to Gulfport

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The mighty Gulfport Admirals powered over St. Stanislaus 48-7, avenging a 1991 surprise Rock victory.

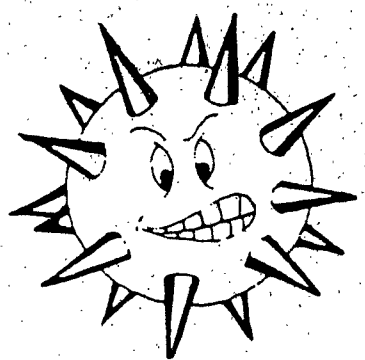

The 5-A conference Admirals scored with ease over the young, inexperienced 4-A Rocks, with fullback Herbert Smith blasting through for four first half scores.

Stanislaus head coach Ken Lyons said at the end of the game, "Gulfport has a good ball club; we knew that. Our coaches' biggest concern was our inexperience, and we showed it tonight. You can't buy it; experience has to be earned. We saw several bright spots; we have some good players out here. We have to work with it more and correct our mistakes. I think we have the makings of a good ball club."

Stanislaus held its composure as a team throughout the night, never giving up, and scored with only 1:54 left in the fourth quarter on a 4-yard untouched run by Stanley Chapman on a handoff from sophomore quarterback Nathan Middleton. Allen Schaffer added the PAT making the Stanislaus took the opening kickoff and their first play from the 20, the team was a little jittery, being moved back to the 15.

Quarterback Jeffrey Bishop handed off to a slashing Brandon Benoit who moved to the 32 for a first down.

score with 6:50 left in the first quarter.

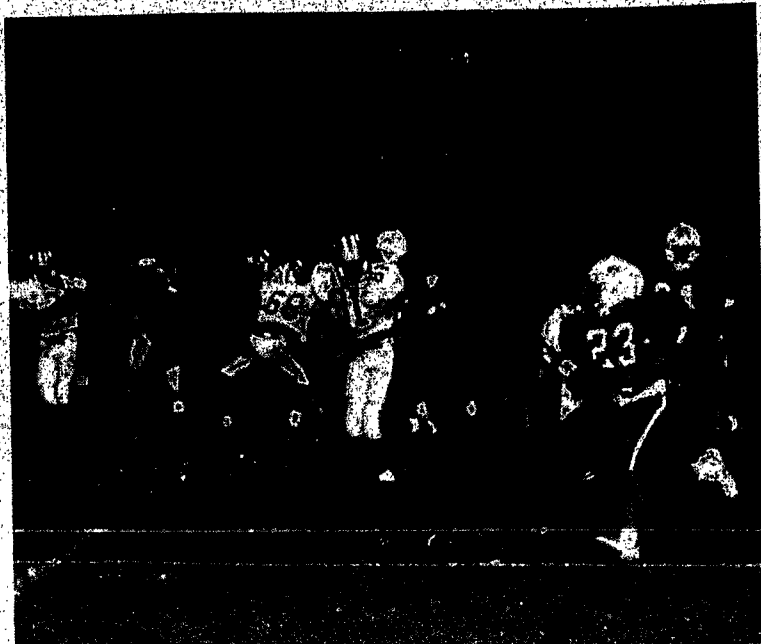

Smith was unstoppable as a runner and pass receiver, as he scored four first half touchdowns. Gulfport's entire squad played a good game.

Gulfport cleared the bench in the second half of play. The rebuilding Rocks lost last year's starters to graduation.

Next week, Stanislaus plays host to crosstown rival Bay High, who was victorious Friday night over the Pirates of Pass Christian by a 14-6 score.

The game at Rock-A-Chaw stadium is set for 7:30 p.m.

Hard running

Stanley Chapman, No. 33, SSC back, makes a short gain on a Rock scoring drive deep in Admiral territory. Lyons commented, "I was happy to see our fourth quarter effort. We tried to clean the bench; I think we did. We tried to play everybody and nobody gave up."

In addition to the crushing running of Smith, Gulfport's quarterback and kicker Brad Kris Minchew picked up two yards to the 40 and Bishop went to the 42 on a keeper for another first down.

Two plays later a Rock fumble was picked up and run back to the Stanislaus 11.

The Stanislaus defense held tight for three downs until Smith moved in for a 4-yard

Tigers repel Pirate invasion Friday

Moving along

Bay High Tiger Larrone Lewis carries the ball during the Tigers' 14-6 win over Pass Christian Friday night in the 1992 season opener at Tiger Stadium. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Bay High Tigers halted a three-year Pirate incursion Friday night with a 14-6 victory at Tiger Stadium.

The Pirates won the toss and kicked off to the Tigers, who took the ball to the 37-yard line. After regaining the ball on a fumble, Pass Christian moved it to the 12 but couldn't make a touchdown. A field goal attempt failed, going wide to the left.

Tiger Larrone Lewis caught the following kick and took it to the Tiger 40 for a first down. Several drives pushed the ball to the Pirate 20.

Six plays later, the Tigers fell across the line into the end zone, making the score 6-0. Sam Sheppard ran the ball in for 2, bumping the score to 8-0.

On the next kickoff, Pirate Anthony Buchanan snagged the ball and was brought down at the Pass 24-yard line. The Pirates ended the first quarter in possession of the ball at the Tiger 36.

The Pirates lost 5 yards on a dead ball penalty to start the second quarter, then moved to the 28. After a loss of a few yards, Pirate Keoki Laphand snagged a jump pass attempt and went to the 18.

Two more plays advanced the ball to the 7-yard line, then Lionel Alexander moved the ball to the 3. After one Tiger penalty and two pileups near the goal line, Winfred Rials made a short run down the left to score the only Pirate TD of the evening.

Rials' attempt to first run in, then pass, the ball for 2 on the PAT was cut off by Bay High defenders. The score remained 8-6.

Pirates and penalties thwarted the Tigers' next drive to the goal line. Forced to punt, Jeff Hopgood kicked the ball to midfield. Several bounces, and penalties against both teams, brought the ball to rest on the Tiger 45-yard line.

After three drive attempts, the Pirates gave possession back to the Tigers when Tristian Robertson intercepted a pass at the Tiger 23.

Bay High kept the ball for three plays without gaining any yards, then punted, grounding the ball at the Pirate 41. The Pirates, led by Gordon Ward's running and helped by penalties, advanced the ball to the Tiger 23 in four plays. A Pirate field goal attempt was blocked to end the first half.

In the start of the second half, the Pirates and Tigers exchanged the ball with neither team scoring. While in Pirate possession, a fumble put the ball into Tiger Jimmy Strong's hands.

Larrone Lewis made a 3-yard gain with a run to the right, then advanced the ball for a first down. Leroy Hawkins took it to the 23 on the next play, then Lewis moved the ball to the 11 on two runs.

Xavier Lewis attempted a run to the left, but Pirate Steve Dewitt brought him down. A penalty against the Tigers on the play backed the ball up 20 yards.

The next two plays, pass attempts to Marcel Whavers, both failed. However, a pass interference penalty against the Pirates on the second play advanced the ball to the 17 for the Tigers.

Larrone Lewis then moved the ball up the middle to the 10. A Pirate offside penalty advanced the ball 5 yards.

The Tigers inched the ball up from the 5 to the 3 on the next play, then Sheppard fell across the goal line to make the score 14-6 with 2:02 on the third quarter clock. A 2-point PAT attempt failed.

The Pirates took the following kick to the 32-yard line, but made no gains. Forced to punt, the Pirates kicked a bouncer to the 6-yard line to end the quarter.

The fourth quarter saw no scoring from either team, but Coach Rocky Gaudin seemed to be in a daze.

"I've been saying for the last four weeks that we've waited 365 days for this," he commented. "It was a hard-fought game, a real struggle."

"We put in the wishbone offense in just one week. We'd been running the I formation a year and a half, and we decided we needed to do something to help our offense."

"This is the first time since I've been here that we won the opening game. It's a strange feeling."

"I have to give credit where it's due. I credit the coaches and kids; they all did a lot of hard work. We've still got a long way

Hawks defeat George County

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Hawks persistently pushed through Rebel defense to carry the game Friday to a 19-6 victory, beginning regular season play on top.

The Hawks took the lead late in the first quarter and capitalized upon it by halftime with a 60-yard completed pass to running back Lance Wedgeworth, night for Malley, who finished with 81 yards on 14 carries. He first carried the ball 4 yards across the line with 1:06 left in the first quarter.

The Hawks added to their 6-point lead with a successful PAT, and entered the second quarter with the Rebels in possession.

As soon as the Hawks

they fumbled on the second down attempt.

George County began a much stronger showing of attempts to move the ball, but failed to accomplish the end when faced with a determined Hawk defensive line.

Three minutes into the fourth quarter the Hawks chose to punt on the fourth down

A pass to Howard again moved the Rebels up field with a 15-yard gain. An incomplete pass and two small yardage gains placed the Rebels four yards from the down when Wedgeworth intercepted a pass and reversed directions once more.

A delay of game charge added 5 yards to the Hawk scrimmage line. A handoff to Matt Harmon nearly corrected the distance problem when he pushed the ball through for a gain of 12.

Prive stole 3 more yards, then Garrett claimed the first down and added 5 more toward goal. The Hawks were on their third down attempt when the whistle blew and Hancock walked off the field with their first season victory.

Hawk coach Irvin Favre said, "We feel good. The kids were really tired, being so hot tonight."

"We made a lot of mistakes but we are pleased to come out with the win."

"This is the first time Hancock has defeated George County in at least five years. Maybe even longer."

Favre said the Rebels came back in the second half with the intent to close in and the Hawks knew it. He said they (the Rebels) gave a great effort.

Hancock, now 1-0, plays 1-0 Harrison Central next week 7:30 p.m. at Hawk stadium.

making the score 13-0 in Hancock's favor.

When the two teams resumed the field, it appeared as if the George County Rebels had received a sensational pep talk during the intermission.

They opened the third quarter with a three-down push, ending when the Hawk defensive squad tightened up and gave no ground.

It wasn't until three minutes into the fourth quarter, when a punt return by the Hawks on their own 11 was blocked by Rebel Gerald Havens and bounced into the end zone where the Rebels recovered, claiming their sole TD for the night.

The Hawks closed the evening when a 33-yard pass by Hawk quarterback Scotty Davis was received by Lance Wedgeworth, who was brought down on the 1-yard line from goal.

Malley, again cut through the opposition to bring Hancock to the 19-6 finish.

This was the second TD of the regained the ball, Lance Wedgeworth began moving downfield, claiming a first down when he caught a Davis pass in mid-air, descending as a sandwich filling between two Rebels. He rolled to the ground and jumped up, appearing invigorated by the 13-yard gain.

Malley stepped in for 9; Wedgeworth added another 10. The drive ended when Davis sent the ball home to Wedgeworth and the Hawks added to the board.

A 2-point conversion attempt failed and the Hawks retained the 13-0 advantage.

Two fumbles followed, George County to Hancock, with Kevin Cuevas recovering; and Hancock back to George County.

George County tried to overcome the first half with a showing, but was unable to finish out with a completed down in spite of an interception by Rebel J.W. Howard.

The third quarter was unproductive offensively for Hancock. The only time during the quarter when they had possession, attempt from their 11-yard line. The Hancock decision placed the Rebels on the board following a successful scramble for recovery of a deflected punt.

George County attempted the PAT, but failed, leaving the score 13-6.

The Wedgeworth/Malley machine when into action, with the assistance of running back James Prive.

Wedgeworth picked up 13 yards, then Malley went up the middle in two plays for a total of 25. Prive claimed the down on an inside handoff, then Malley was held down by a host of Rebels. Prive sneaked around the left and picked up 4; Brian Lindsey accepted Davis' 33-yard pass to the goal line, and Malley carried it over with 5:05 left in the game.

The Hawks increased their lead to 19-6 and failed to add another 2 points on a conversion.

The Rebels placed their hearts into the last efforts of the evening, as Howard accepted the ball on the 1-yard line and ran it to the 30.

Gulf Coast Women's Center needs Crisis Line volunteers

When a woman is a victim of sexual assault or domestic violence, she needs help right away.

The Gulf Coast Women's Center has a 24-hour crisis line to provide this help, and the center's volunteers stand ready to come to the woman's assistance at her time of crisis.

The center, a member agency of the United Way of South Mississippi, provides temporary shelter for battered women and their children, so there are a number of ways that volunteers are needed, but the primary service they provide is in staffing the crisis line.

Crisis line volunteers are required to work only in the county in which they live and receive calls in their homes during the evening hours and weekends.

Volunteers usually serve on the line one week a month and are provided with a paper so they can continue their regular routine and be contacted if they are needed.

Kay Williams of Diamond-

head has been a crisis line volunteer for two years. "It just doesn't take that much of your time," she said, and encouraged others to provide support to those in need.

Providing such help sometimes involves going to the hospital in the middle of the night in order to be with a victim of sexual assault.

The Gulf Coast Women's Center could not continue to provide victims with needed services if it were not for the help of volunteers.

The main requirement for being a volunteer is to realize the seriousness of the situation and to make a commitment to the program. Volunteers must be compassionate, non-judgmental people who are good listeners.

Prospective volunteers are provided with two full days of certified training, which will take place Sept. 26 and Oct. 3.

Anyone interested may call Augusta Toomer at 1-800-800-1396 or leave message to have the call returned.

The work of the individual still remains the spark that moves mankind forward.

FAITH GIVES CREDIT TO WORK FOR OUR ENVIABLE LIFESTYLE

The work we've done has been the way we've earned the life we live today. The farmer with his fields of wheat Provides the food for us to eat. The worker in the factory Assembles with efficiency Each necessary home appliance That's conceived by modern science. Bible passages we've read Declare that man must earn his bread; And we've become, by this decree, A model for the world to see. Thus, from the way that we've progressed, Our nation has indeed been blessed. So on the Sabbath, go and pray. Then celebrate on Labor Day.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Whatever you're cooking and however you're cooking it, that special farewell-to-summer meal on Labor Day, be sure to pick up some ears of corn, in their husks, as an important treat for the meal, and for the meals as well.

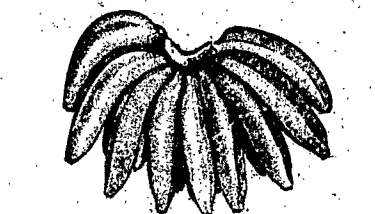

Sugar-sweet and bursting with milky goodness, fresh corn is at its peak these September days, and is bargain-priced at our area supermarkets and farmer's markets, so you'll get top flavor and top savings at the same time, and corn is ever so healthful and good for you, besides!

Of course, our markets also offer corn, with the husks removed, for your convenience; but, believe me, there's a difference in taste, at least to my corn-loving palate. However, it's all good, and corn is so versatile. Boil it, bake it, steam it, grill or roast it indoors or on the outdoor pit, you still won't get your fill of fresh corn.

Corn isn't the only bargain buy at the markets these days. Other good things to round out your meal are also offered at good prices, such as spare ribs, beef or pork as you choose, whole beef briskets or smaller cuts, and Boston butt pork roasts and smoked hams or other hams, both butt and portions.

Those good and tasty standbys, ground beef and chicken leg quarters and breast quarters are also good buys. In the vegetable bins, okra, green beans and squash are offered at good prices—and let's not forget that perennial of the barbecue as well as well as everyday meals—canned pork and beans. It seems that every store is offering "specials" on these!

As for dessert, choose from bananas and plums and kiwi and watermelon and seedless grapes for special values. Some of our stores offer savings on ice creams and sherberts and cakes and pastries. Oh, I forgot to mention those large Florida avocados in the markets.

I think that I shall take the lazy cook's route on Labor Day and grill some tasty catfish fillets, along with corn and potatoes and onions, and need nothing more than a simple green salad and fresh fruit for dessert. Or, I may cook hamburgers and baked beans—or, I may not cook at all—and have a laborless Labor Day!

But, at some point or other I shall cook some corn in the husks, and enjoy to the fullest one of America's oldest known treats. The early settlers were introduced to maize (from the Indian word mahiz) by the Indians. To distinguish this new grain from the wheat they had known in the Old World, the colonists called it "Indian corn" and eventually, simply "corn."

We all know how to boil corn, plunge it into rapidly boiling water (enough to cover the ears) and do not salt during cooking, as this hardens the kernels. Cook quickly—and enjoy! As I've said, I prefer to buy my corn in the husk, to keep its flavor and freshness. Just peel back the husks and remove the silk (a dry vegetable brush is excellent for pulling out the stubborn silk between the kernels). Replace the husks and tie in place at the open end, using a narrow piece of the husk, then cook as you wish. I like:

ROASTED CORN IN THE HUSK

I like to spread on a flavored softened butter before roasting the husk. Then I place the corn in a shallow pan and roast in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 20 minutes. Or, I place the corn around the outer edges of the charcoal grill, over hot coals, turning 2 or 3 times while grilling for 15 minutes.

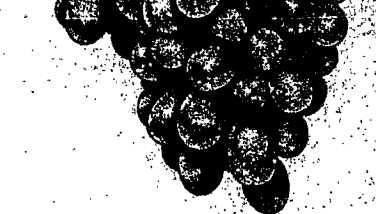

I like to add dashes of Tabasco to the softened butter for brushing the ears of corn. I also like to soften a half cup of butter and mix with a half teaspoon or a teaspoon of chili powder. Good!
